Mysuru, Sept. 19 (MTY&BCT)- Dasara-2022's first big event, the assembling of the Golden Throne at the Private Durbar Hall is tomorrow and hectic preparations are on at the Mysore Palace for the grand event.

Though the erstwhile royal family stringently follows the centuries-old traditions every year without any lapse — be it a low-key Dasara or a grand Dasara — this year's preparations have gained significance in the wake of the State Government declaring grand celebrations after two years of COVID pandemic.

Moreover, the Dasara inauguration on Sept. 26 will be the first assignment in Mysuru for India's President Droupadi Murmu after assuming the highest office.

The Golden Throne will be assembled between 7 am and 1 pm and the Palace will be out of bounds for visitors. Banners and notices have been erected at all the entrances and exits of the monument announcing tomorrow's restriction, to spread the word among the tourists.

Red carpet has been spread all over the Palace and the places where private ceremonies are held are shining bright as the gold-leafed pillars, floor and walls have been wiped and swept clean. Before the Golden Throne is assembled, there will be a Ganapathi Homa at the Durbar Hall and today, the Homa Kunda was laid at the appropriate place in consultation with Pramoda Devi Wadiyar.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Jayanagar 4th block was the go-to shopping destination for me, made more appealing by its proximity compared to Brigade Road and Commercial Street. Shopping was the mother-and-girls outing. I would shop for a few trinkets, which held no interest or use for the husband and his presence was no help for me. My simple treat for the girls would be an ice-cream. The shopping and the treat, though simple, brought us untold delight. The excitement that the trinkets — earrings, bracelets or a small toy — elicited in my daughters, was a delight for me.

We did venture on longer shopping trips to Commercial Street in the ubiquitous auto. The long walk along M.G. Road was a mixed bouquet with my two kids in tow. Once, one of them suddenly refused to walk any further and squatted on the spot, demanding to be carried, which was beyond me. When the lure of ice-cream didn't move her, I simply walked on. After a few steps I turned to see her come running towards me! A treat of rose apples, chaat and ice-cream amidst the dimpled giggles of my two toddlers — the priceless denouement for me — and it was time to go home.

As auto drivers refused to take us home, I had to opt for the bus. As I searched for my purse to buy the tickets, I realised I had been zipped off my money while boarding the bus in the jostling crowd. My attention was on my girls while somebody else had an eye on my purse! Thankfully, a fellow passenger helped out seeing my plight. There are many a good Samaritan always around. Bengaluru was no exception. — Sandhya Vasudev in Deccan Herald

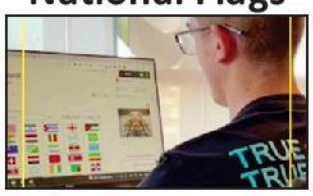
Penguin gets second life with prosthetic boots

California: Lucas, an African penguin at the San Diego Zoo, is getting a new lease on life thanks to a pair of prosthetic boots in California. It was diagnosed with a degenerative foot condition called bumblefoot. This causes painful lesions on the feet and can lead to sepsis, infection and death if left untreated.

Though Lucas had recently been fitted with a pair of prosthetic "shoes" made of neoprene and rubber, which will allow him to walk better and minimize the pressure on his feet when he moves. The boots were created by the Zoo in partnership with animal prosthesis organization Thera-Paw, which makes artificial limbs for a variety of animals. For Lucas, these boots have been a long time coming.

The four-year-old penguin initially developed a spinal infection as a young chick that left him without the inability to stand properly.

Teen identifies National Flags



Lebanon: Hassan Dawy, a 16-year-old teenager from Lebanon put his memory to the test and broke a Guinness World Record by correctly identifying all of the world's national flags in 4 minutes flat.

He managed to identify all of the flags with a time 6 seconds faster than previous record-holder Adam Saeed of Bahrain, who achieved the feat in 2021, Guinness World Records announced. "I spent the majority of the summer of 2021 practicing to achieve this record," Dawy told Guinness officials. "I recall giving up at some point when the record was broken again by 18 seconds and reaching the mark of 4 minutes and 6 seconds. The job became much harder."

Dawy said he ultimately decided to persevere with his goal. "Later in the summer I went back to practice, I couldn't just let it go," The successful record attempt came after about 1,000 practice attempts. I have owned every Guinness World Records book since 2013, I am now living my dreams," he added.

REALLY...?

- The first ice-cream cup: What could call itself the first ice-cream cup was found in Egypt in a tomb from the Second Dynasty (2700 BC). This was a kind of mould, consisting of two silver cups, one of which contained snow (or crushed ice) and the other cooked fruit. "Icehouses", where snow was stored and ice deliberately formed, were undoubtedly an extremely ancient invention.

Road humps needed at vulnerable junctions

Sir,

The above photo is that of a junction at Nandini Circle in Dattagalli leading to Triveni Mall junction. At both these junctions, minor accidents were common before the stretch was asphalted.

Till recently, umpteen number of potholes inconvenienced the road-users forcing them to drive carefully. Now that the roads are widened and asphalted from Triveni Junction to Nandini Circle Junction, all drivers, ignorant of traffic sense, drive at very high speed. Such junctions urgently need metallic scientific humps to put a brake on violators.

On behalf of the motorists, I request the Traffic Police authorities to install scientific metallic humps on either side of Triveni Junction and Nandini Junction which are the most vulnerable spots for possible accidents. Hope the City Police Commissioner will also look into it.

Bommai rejects Kerala CM's Railway project proposals

Flags concerns over damage to ecology, environment

Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan holding bilateral talks on various projects at 'Krishna,' the Home Office of the Karnataka Chief Minister in Bengaluru yesterday.

Bengaluru, Sept. 19 (Agencies)- The bilateral talks held between the Governments of Kerala and Karnataka here on various projects failed to yield results as Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai turned down the proposals of his counterpart Pinarayi Vijayan, citing environmental concerns.

Bommai rejected all the key infrastructure-related proposals of Kerala, saying it will damage the Eco-Sensitive Zones (ESZs) and wildlife sanctuaries. Vijayan called on Bommai in Bengaluru yesterday to hold discussions on various projects and issues of mutual interest, as decided at the South Zonal Council meeting.

The projects that Vijayan and Bommai discussed were Kanhangad-Kaniyur Railway Line via Panathur, Thalassery-Mysuru Railway Line, an underground tunnel passing through Bandipur National Park, and a proposal to increase bus services at night in this ESZ.

Addressing reporters after the meeting, Bommai said that the Kerala Government sought co-operation for its various Railway and Highway projects. The proposed Kanhangad-Kaniyur Rail Line project has a 40-km route in Kerala and 31-km in Karnataka.

"However, this project is not very beneficial for Karnataka. Besides, it will pass through the rich bio-diversity and ecologically sensitive areas of the Western Ghats that are declared Tiger and Elephant Corridors. So, the Kerala CM was clearly told that it was not possible for Karnataka to give extended co-operation for this project."

"... the Railways had said that it will review the project if both the States agree to it. We rejected it because there is no benefit to Karnataka from this Railway Line," he said.

Another Railway project that the State rejected was the Thalassery-Mysuru Railway Line.

Vijayan discussed the old project of the Thalassery-Mysuru route and he was told that it was not possible to give permission as the proposed rail route will traverse through Bandipur-Nagarahole National Parks and it will cause great damage to flora and fauna, Bommai said.

The Kerala Chief Minister proposed the construction of an underground rail route and even it was rejected flatly as it would damage the environment during the construction activities.

Vijayan was informed that presently, two buses are operated during the night through Bandipur National Highway, but he sought permission to allow four buses and that proposal was also rejected, Bommai pointed out.

He said Vijayan also told him that the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has proposed a new alignment touching the NH-73. He also apprised Bommai that this new alignment will not pass through the ESZs.

"We don't know what proposal the NHAI officials are coming up with. Let the NHAI give us a proposal. However, we will not allow any project in ESZ, be it Nagarahole or Bandipur National Park," Bommai clarified.

Sugarcane growers to take out Vidhana Soudha Chalo on Sept. 26

Mysuru, Sept. 19 (PM&TRR)- Demanding the implementation of their various demands including the Fair and Remunerative Price (FRP) fixation and dropping of the proposed Bill for the privatisation of power sector, State Sugarcane Growers Association has organised a Vidhana Soudha Chalo on Sept. 26.

This was announced by Association President Kurubur Shantakumar at a press conference held at Kuvempu Park near Gun House here recently.

"The present rate of Rs. 3,050 per ton for the present year is not fair and opposing this, protests were held near the office of Deputy Commissioner (DC) and also at Taluk Office. An agitation by blocking roads was also done in this connection on Aug. 12 across the State to draw government's attention. But despite all this, the State Government has not taken any action and is neglecting farmers," he alleged.

"The Union Government has introduced a Bill in Parliament to privatise the Power sector. If this Bill is passed and implemented, meters will be fixed to the agricultural pump sets resulting in difficulties for farmers which may force them not to resort to agriculture. This act of the Union Government has already been opposed by the State Governments of Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Punjab, Kerala and Bihar. Similarly, our State Government should also oppose the Bill," demanded Kuruburu Shantakumar.

Association leaders P. Somashekar, Hallikerehundi Bhagyaraj, Baradanapua Nagaraj, Siddesh, Madappa and others were present at the press conference.

Illumination of Circles, Roads, Grounds pick up pace

Massive lighting assignment employs over 115 contractors, 300 workers

Mysuru, Sept. 19 (GA, SPN & BCT)- The illumination of Mysuru city has picked up pace with just over six days remaining for the Dasara Nada Habba to be inaugurated officially.

As this year, the Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) has the challenging task of illuminating over 124 kms of roads and circles, the staff and contractors are working overtime to accomplish the feat.

The lighting up task is being undertaken stage by stage and after the connections are fixed, they are tested to ensure all the lamps are lit and the safety precautions are followed. In the past, there were instances of sparks emitting from the roadside poles where wires were laid in close proximity to the roads, especially when it rained.

On the Jumboo Savari route too, the fixing of poles, overhead light patterns and artistic images are in full swing and here, the CESC is erecting poles that are 22 ft. to host overhead lighting. The poles have to be at this height as the height of the Ambari mounted on the Howdah Elephant will be 16 ft. from the ground.

Preparations are on to erect an illuminated replica of Central Vista (New Delhi) at Doddakere Maidan along with a 3D portrait of Puneeth Rajkumar. At the Yuva Dasara venue that will have a laser show, workers are setting up the illuminated portraits of Jnanpith awardees and Subhas Chandra Bose. The LIC Circle at Bannimantap is being readied to have national symbols like National Animal, National Bird, National Emblem and National Flag. Krishnaraja Wadiyar Circle, Chamaraja Wadiyar Circle and Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle are being prepped up to erect the portraits of Wadiyars in 3D.

The Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple will have a 3D video-mapping image of Mahishasuramardini. This apart, all the city entry points, Hunsur side, KRS side, Bengaluru, Nanjangud, Mysore Airport side, Bannur and T. Narasipur will be illuminated with welcome arches.

The illumination of the Sayyaji Rao Road with 'Hasiru Chappara' (Green Pandal) is almost complete and this is an annual self-branding exercise by CESC.

Meanwhile, the illumination has given jobs to over 115 contractors and over 300 workers associated with them. "We are undertaking the illumination works for the last four to five days and we are illuminating the stretch from the K.R. Circle to the Ayurveda College Circle," said Ravi, an electrical contractor who has bagged the tender to illuminate a part of the city.

All the contractors have been given a deadline of Sept. 25 and the Jumboo Savari route has to be illuminated by Sept. 23 as the Forest Department has made a special request to CESC in this direction so that Dasara elephants are acclimatised to the dazzling lights.

This year, the Jumboo Savari will begin in the evening and end at nightfall.

Civic Honour for Droupadi Murmu at Hubballi on Sept.26

Pointing out that the President is a devout and spiritual citizen, Union Minister Joshi asserted that it was apt on the part of the State Government to have invited Droupadi Murmu for inauguration.

Maintaining that as a Union Minister from the State, he was very much happy with the Government's decision, Joshi appealed to the people to take part in large numbers for the President's civic honour at Hubballi.

Referring to the Congress Party leader Rahul Gandhi's 'Bharat Jodo' rally, Joshi termed the rally as a political gimmick of the Congress, when Assembly polls in a few States are round the corner.

Arguing that the people know what the Congress has done and is doing for the country, the Union Minister said that the forthcoming elections will know where the Congress party stands today.

Palace gets royal sheen

The dismantled parts of the Golden Throne will be brought from the strong room inside the Palace and the parts will be assembled as per tradition and as it has been followed all these years amidst tight security.

The lion-head will be fixed to the Golden Throne on Sept. 26 after which the scion of the royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar will ascend the 'Simhasana' and conduct the Private Durbar. "All the traditions are being followed and after the tasks, Pramoda Devi Wadiyar will inspect the preparations and changes if any as per her suggestions will be implemented," said Mysore Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya.

150 chandeliers cleaned

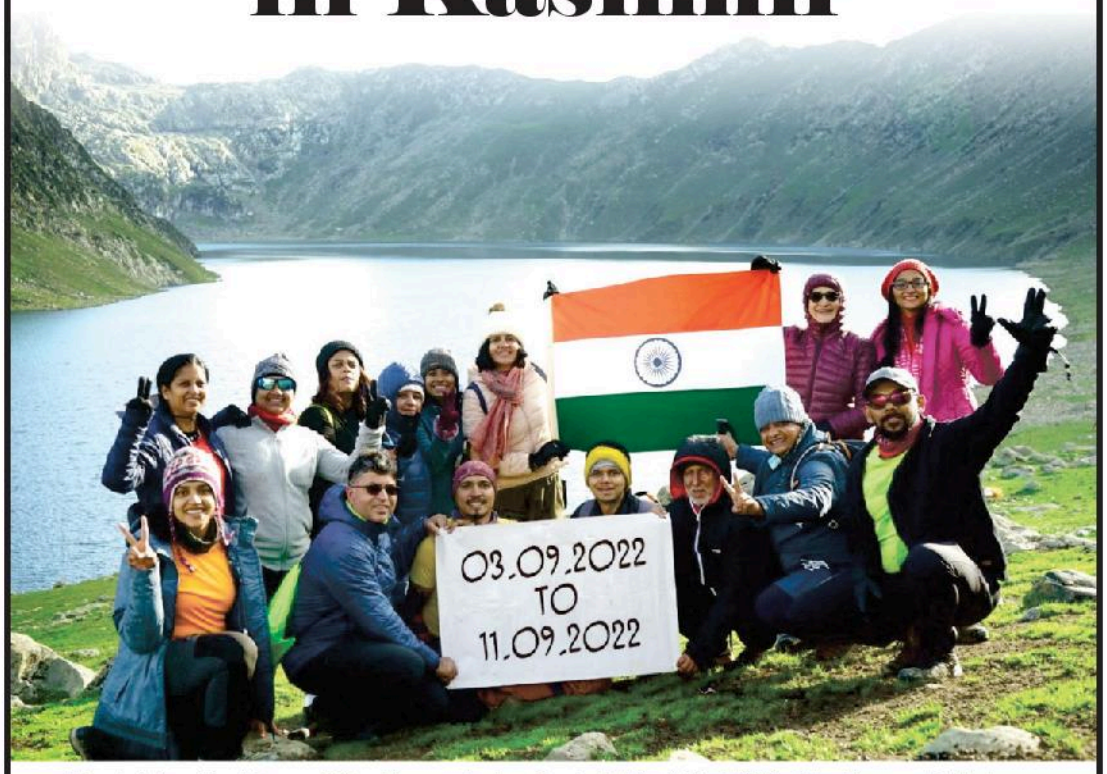
The Palace Board is also undertaking the upkeep of the priceless chandeliers that adorn the ceilings of Public Durbar Hall, Private Durbar Hall and Kalyana Mantapa. They are being cleaned with soapy water and the fused-out bulbs are being replaced.

As the chandeliers are at a great height, scaffolding has been erected to reach out to clean them. The chandeliers include big ones, domes and pearl chandeliers, white, red and green ones too. These precious chandeliers were imported from Czechoslovakia around 1926.

There are over 150 chandeliers of different sizes and shapes at Amba Vilas, also called Khas Durbar Hall, Kalyana Mantapa where there are dome-shaped chandeliers, besides the ornate ones at the Public Durbar Hall dotting the ceilings with intricate paintings and matching Italian marble flooring.

While there are nine chandeliers inside the Public Durbar Hall, there are eight in Private Durbar Hall and there are one big and four small chandeliers in the Kalyana Mantapa. The upkeep is to give a fresh sheen to the exotic chandeliers.

Trek to Twin Lakes in Kashmir



The jubilant trekkers at the Marsar Lake at a height of 13,150 feet in Marsar, Pahalgam at Anantnag district, Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir.

Rivers, Streams, Meadows, Deodar Trees, Sheep, Mules, Shepherds, Bhakarwals, trekking in copious rains and boulders — the blue lakes and soft shifting clay freezes our tired feet but rejuvenates our soul, leaving us sprouting new sense of life.

Where is heaven? It's in Kashmir, it is said. Dr. Tanushree Jena, a Gynaecologist from Nanjangud taluk in Mysuru district, who is on her second trek in Himalayan ranges went for a trek from Sept. 3-11, 2022 to Tarsar Marsar in Pahalgam, Anantnag district in Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir, under the aegis of Tiger Adventure Foundation in association with Pahadi Adventures, Uttarakhand.

It was my first trek in my life to Himalayas and there were lot of butterflies in stomach — as to how will it be, the nature's call, how to get into the sleeping bag, were all boggling in my mind and this type of expedition helps us to divert our minds from monotonous lives and changes the perspective of life, says Dr. Vidya Jeevan, a Professor from Raja Rajeshwari Medical College, Bengaluru.

Tarsar Marsar, the seven-day trek is of about 56 kms which starts from Aru Valley in Pahalgam and passes through six camps like Lidderwat, Shekwas, Tarsar, summit at Tarsar Lake and pass through Tarsar Pass, Sundarsar, Marsar and summit at Marsar Lake and descend down to Gulmarg river side camp and culminate back at Aru Valley. This trek was simply awesome, a way to rediscover ourselves and which rejuvenated us, says Dr. Sowmya Rajpurohit of Mahabubnagar in Telangana.

Rains: Anyone trekking in this ranges gets mesmerised with the beauty of the valley, river, flora and fauna and the blue lakes, but the trek amidst the rain from Lidderwat to Shekhawas becomes slushy. When the drizzle stopped, the nature really mesmerised again with the clouds just moving along with us and its said to gain something you got to pass through the pain and this pain was worth it. When we reached the Tarsar Lake, our first summit which is bluish in colour, just captivated our hearts, says Dr. B.N. Rashmi, an Assistant Professor from Department of Anatomy, Mysore Medical College, who was leading the expedition.

"The reason why this trek remains close to my heart is when you learn how a person can be so selfless and can sacrifice their dreams for others. Each trek is a great experience. It offers good and bad and it's up to us to take the positive vibes and move on," she adds.

Tough Part: But the trek from Tarsar to Sundarsar via ridge and to Marsar Lake via Tarsar Pass amidst the boulders was challenging one, says Daksha Gupta of Cochin from Kerala.

"Tarsar Marsar Lake, which is at a height of 12,500 feet to 13,500 feet, is one of the all-time favourite treks by Indians and other trek enthusiasts all over the world. It was merely a dream come true for me as I successfully accomplished both the summit. This trek has shot up in fame over the past two years and has almost become as popular as its sister trek, the Kashmir Great Lakes," says Preethi Padaki, Dance Instructor at Mysuru.

"Though we have travelled to Kashmir twice, the true beauty lies in trek as we get to see the beautiful meadows, sheep grazing, music of the flowing river, tall pine trees, fascinates the trekkers," says Dr. Shravan Pandit of Haveri.

The trekkers were enthralled at the summit of the Tarsar and Marsar and we could see the happiness on the face of the trekkers as they made the reels for the social media and hoisted the Tricolour on the Lakes, says Rekha Pawan Kumar, an IT professional from Bengaluru.

There were about 12 doctors and 5 other people in this expedition from different parts of the country like Cochin (Kerala), Mahbubnagar (Telangana), Bengaluru, Chamarajanagar, Haveri, Mangaluru, Mysuru and Nanjangud.

The team members were Dr. B.N. Rashmi (Team Leader), Dr. Tanushree Jena, Dr. Santosh Kumar Bennur, Dr. Shravan Pandit, Dr. Vaishali Pandit, Dr. Soumya Raj Purohit, Dr. Shravan Raj Purohit, Dr. U.V. Sangeetha, Praveen Gowda, Dr. G.S. Vidya, Dr. Nagesh Shanbagh, Dr. Smitha Shreesha, Daksha Gupta, K.L. Rekha, Pawan Kumar and Preethi Padaki.

The expedition was co-ordinated by DSD Solanki of Tiger Adventure Foundation, Gaurav Rawat of Pahadi Adventure, Uttarakhand, Dr. M. Swetha of Mysuru and R. Santosh, Hon. Secretary of Tiger Adventure Foundation.

Mysore Memories...

Sirikanta Srikantaiah: Voice of Kannadigas

T. N. Srikantaiah, known endearingly to a generation of readers as Ti. Nam. Shri, was a Kannada poet, writer, translator, teacher and grammarian par excellence. Groomed under the able guidance of M. Hiriyanna and B.M. Srikantaiah, he in turn would nurture and guide such scholars as S. Ananthanarayan and M. Chidanandamurthy. Srikantaiah's magnum opus "Bharatheeya Kavyamimamse" remains to this day a most revered and respected work on poetics, linguistics and history of poetry across centuries. Srikantaiah was also the person responsible for coining the term 'Rashtrapathi' as a suitable vernacular equivalent for the 'President' of India — a usage that has been adopted into practice ever since! This biographical piece is a small tribute to this legend.—Ed

Theerthapura Nanjundaiah Srikantaiah (Ti. Nam. Shri)

By Dr. Bhagirath S. Naganath

Theerthapura Nanjundaiah Srikantaiah (Kan: Ti. Nam. Shri) was born on 26th November, 1906 in Theerthapura village, Tumkur district. His father was Shanbog Nanjundaiah and mother Baluvaneeralina Bhagirathamma.

He lost his mother at the tender age of 9 and was raised by his aunts on either side of the family. These women tried to fill the void left behind by his mother. This probably contributed to his affectionate demeanour and caring attitude towards womenfolk all through his life. This trait comes to the fore in many of his later works such as Hennu Makkala Padagalu, Essays on Attimabbe, Keregehara and Mahadeviyakkana Kelavu Vachanagalu.

Early years

T.N. Srikantaiah had his schooling at Theerthapura, where he passed his lower secondary exam in 1916. His middle school education was completed at Chikkanayakanahalli after which he joined the Tumkur Government Collegiate high school in 1919 for his high school education.

In his home town, a gentleman by name Bhyrappa had established a small circulating library at his house. He was affiliated to the Agricultural Training School. In this circulating library, Srikantaiah stumbled across periodicals like Krishnasukti, Sadboha Chandrika, Madhuravani and some translations by Bindiganaville Venkatachar and Galaganatha. Srikantaiah had memorised many passages of Kalidasa's Raghuvamsha in his Sanskrit classes.

Much to his father's displeasure, he had chosen Kannada as his second language. However, most of his early contributions to the school magazine were essentially in Kannada.

He was an avid contributor to the school newspaper School Folk. Among his earliest articles was an English article titled My Mother. This article was well-received by his teachers and peers. Another moving piece in memory of his childhood friend who had succumbed to the plague was titled Mitramilapam. Among his first poems, Shokageethe in Kannada was an early testament towards his grasp of metre and scale.

T.N. Srikantaiah completed his BA degree in 1926 and stood first in his class. At the convocation, he received six gold medals from Nalwadi Krishna Raja Wadiyar. As MA in Kannada was not yet available, he pursued his M. A. in English. In 1928, he gave his M.C.S. exam where he stood third in the civil service rankings. This helped him get a probationer's post in the Revenue Department at Srirangapatna. Two months later, he was appointed as Lecturer at the Intermediate College, Mysore. Srikantaiah readily accepted this appointment thereby relinquishing his position in the Revenue Department. His grandfather was dismayed that his grandson had quit a secure Government job at the Tax Office for a teacher's job!

He completed his MA in 1929 and got the first rank. Following this, he was transferred to Maharaja College, Mysore. Around this time, B.M. Srikantaiah started MA in Kannada at Mysore. This prompted T.N. Srikantaiah to sit for Kannada MA exam as well. He passed this exam in flying colours by securing first rank! He was awarded three gold medals at the convocation in 1931.

Academician

A.N. Murthy Rao's essay Maharaja College's Common Room describes the arrival of ten young lecturers to Maharaja College who would eventually change the intellectual landscape of the establishment. T. N. Srikan-taiah features prominently among them. Though T.N. Srikantaiah had a MA both in Kannada and English, it was thanks to B.M. Srikantaiah and T. S. Venkannayya, that he chose to remain with Kannada rather than English.

By 1943, Srikantaiah was promoted to the post of Associate Professor and was transferred to Bangalore. At Bangalore, he became associated with Prof. A.N. Murthy Rao, Pu. Ti. Narasimhachar, Maasti Venkatesh Iyengar and even worked with A.R. Krishnashastry on Kannada Dictionary Project.

Between 1948 and 1950, he worked as Chief Translator at the Mysore Samvidhana Parishat. Srikantaiah also taught in Davanagere Government College during these years. From 1951 onwards, for a few months, he was appointed as Superintendent at a College in Kolar.

By 1952, he was invited to Dharwad Karnatak University as the University's first Kannada Professor. Here he was instrumental in laying down the foundation for the nascent Kannada Department. His brief tenure here brought him in close contact with Pune's Deccan College as well.

He was made a Visiting Professor at the Deccan College and was involved in arranging classes on linguistics, especially during the vacation period. Eminent linguists of the time such as Dr. Suneeth Kumar Chatterjee and Dr. M.B. Emono (then Vice-Chancellor of California University) were in constant communication with T.N. Srikantaiah during this period. The next year, that is 1952, saw Srikantaiah bring forth his seminal work — a Kannada version of the newly formulated Constitution of India!

By 1955, T.N. Srikantaiah received a Rockefeller Scholarship for a brief educational tour of the United States. For eight months, from 1955-56, Srikantaiah spent his time doing research at Michigan, Pennsylvania. Following this, he spent a month in UK, then France, Italy and few other European countries. Even though the Rockefeller Scholarship entitled T. N. Srikantaiah to bring his wife along, he declined the offer owing to family commitments!

He returned to Maharaja College, Mysore, in 1957. Kuvempu had just relinquished his post as Principal and had become the Vice-Chancellor of University of Mysore.

WORD OF THE DAY

Obliterate

Pronunciation: uh-BLIT-uh-rayt.
Meaning: Obliterate most often means "to remove from existence; to destroy utterly all trace, indication, or significance of."
Origin: Obliterate has been preserved in our language for centuries, and that's not nothing! The earliest evidence in our files traces obliterate back to the mid-16th century as a word for removing something from memory. Soon after, English speakers began to use it for the specific act of blotting out or obscuring anything written, and eventually its meaning was generalized to removing anything from existence. In the meantime, physicians began using obliterate for the surgical act of filling or closing up a vessel, cavity, or passage with tissue, which would then cause the bodily part to collapse or disappear. Today obliterate thrives in the English lexicon with the various senses it has acquired over the years.
Example: "In June, for the first time in her career, Taylor took a summer break of three weeks to jump on a motorcycle and ride across the country. Publicly, she posted footage of food and the road. Privately, she sought conversation and connection that would obliterate her bubble." — Matt Pearl

THE ODD WORD

Obequitate

To ride about.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Off his own bat

Meaning: By an individual's own efforts.
Origin: One question that often gets asked on this website about the figurative expression 'off his own bat' is "should that be 'off his own back'"? Well no, it shouldn't. 'Off your own back' originated as a mishearing of the former expression. It has gained sufficient currency to be considered as a viable everyday alternative of the correct version, but purists dismiss it as a straightforward error.
Bats come in many forms of course and, as is always the case with such words when they occur in phrases where the context clear, the meaning is open to fanciful interpretations. So, as with the yards in 'the whole nine yards', which are guessed to be any number of things, the 'bat' in 'off his own bat' has been said to be one of these: the flying mammal, a butter pat, a tool used in brickmaking etc, etc. In fact, the bat in question is a cricket bat and the first activity that was said to be done 'off someone's own bat' was to score runs. The first citation of 'off his own bat' in print comes from the pen of the celebrated cricket historian and statistician Henry Thomas Waghorn, in Cricket Scores, 1742: "The bets on the Slendon man's head that he got 40 notches off his own bat were lost."

I have played incredible knocks with the lightest of bats. —AB de Villiers
